"A Little Common Sense: Catholic Social Teaching on Immigration"

featuring William O'Neill, S.J.

Wednesday, Oct. 22, 6:30 to 9 p.m.

LeRoux Conference Room (STCN 160)

The Justice Education Forum brings yet another evening of stimulating dialogue and community reflection over dinner with an address given by William O'Neill, S.J., associate professor of social ethics at the Jesuit School of Theology at Berkeley. Fr. O'Neill's expertise sheds light on how Catholic social teaching offers a solid and informed foundation for immigration policy. Michael Ramos, (M.Div. '93), executive director of Greater Church Council of Seattle, will provide a regional response. Gabriella Gutierrez y Muhs, associate professor of modern languages and literature, will moderate the evening dialogue.

This event is sponsored by Justice Education Forum, Academic Salons and Magis: Alumni Committed for Mission. To RSVP, contact magis-rsvp@seattleu.edu or 296-2637.

Integrity of the Catholic Worldview

Peter Hess, faith project director at the National Center for Science Education (Oakland, Calif.), will explore the integrity of the Catholic worldview during the formative years of modern science, and how that integrity can help us navigate increasingly turbulent waters of science, religion and ethics. His talk will take place at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 23, in Schafer Auditorium (in the Lemieux Library).

Over the course of 2,000 years of Catholic tradition, the worldview of the Christian West has changed quite beyond recognition. The geocentric cosmos serving as backdrop for the biblical drama of human salvation has disappeared, working a progressive and profoundly dislocating effect since the Middle Ages. But beneath the changing form of the natural sciences, there are at least two constants in the Catholic view of the world: Creation is perceived as fundamentally good, and the unity of knowledge is an ideal for which we must strive.

Saturday, October 25

Join Families United Network (FUN) for the Woodland Park Zoo Pumpkin Prowl on October 25th

Come join us by the statues at 3:30p.m.in the Sullivan Hall Courtyard. We will have snacks and face-painting for kids (or anybody who wants their face painted). At 4:30p.m.we will caravan to the Woodland Park Zoo for trick-or-treating, live performances, haunted houses, and of course, thousands of carved and lighted pumpkins.

And yes, we encourage costumes (kids and adults).

Do not fret if you missed a chance to give us your ticket orders this week. We will continue to accept orders and money for tickets at the discounted FUN price until October 17th ($5 for adults, $3 for children 2-17 years old. Children younger than 2 years old are free). And of course, if you don't get the tickets from us but would still like to go as part of our group, you can also just buy tickets for a little more at Bartell Drugs. <http://www.zoo.org/events/dates/pprowl.html> If you do buy the tickets through us, we will have them available when you meet us at the law school on the 25th.

It will be a FUN time. We hope you can make it. And if you have any questions, you can reach me at hartj2@seattleu.edu or 206-306-5710.

BLSA's Annual Halloween Party

9 pm-2 am at Waids.

Waids is located at 1212 East Jefferson Street.

There will be a Best Costume Contest, drinks, and great music. See you there!

Holding the Department of Homeland Security Accountable

Monday, October 20, 2008

12:00 -12:50 p.m.
Sullivan Hall, Room C5

Join OneAmerica (www.weareoneamerica.org) and immigration and international human rights attorney Karol Brown (www.globallawpartners.com) for a brief video and discussion designed to raise awareness of the Department of Homeland Security's policies and practices that routinely violate basic rights of people in this country, particularly immigrants. The goal is to create an educated constituency for the November 2008 presidential and congressional elections who are concerned about these issues and to discuss how to work together to ensure that the government restores these basic human rights.

For more information, please contact Naomi Strand at strandn@seattleu.edu.

Seattle University's Kinsey Gallery presents 'Border Film Project'

Wednesday, October 22, 2008 from 5:00 – 6:30 pm

Kinsey Gallery (First floor Casey building), Seattle University

Prior to the Justice Education Forum, Magis: Alumni Committed for Mission will host a reception for the Border Film Project exhibited at the Kinsey Gallery. Border Film Project is a collaborative art project that provided disposable cameras to two groups on different sides of the border: undocumented migrants crossing the desert into the United States, and American Minutemen trying to stop them. To date, the project has received 73 cameras – 38 from migrants and 35 from Minutemen – with nearly 2,000 pictures in total. The photographs show the human face of immigration and challenge stereotypes. The exhibit will run from September 22 to October 24, open Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. For more information on the exhibit, please visit <http://www.seattleu.edu/artsci/finearts/events/exhibition.html>. (Please note this reception will be held in conjunction with the Justice Education Forum event listed above.)

To RSVP, please email magis-rsvp@seattleu.edu by October 17, 2008.

BAILIFFS WANTED

For Thomas Tang Regional Appellate Competition

From Friday, October 24th, 2008 through Saturday, October 25th, 2008

The Moot Court Board is seeking bailiffs for the up and coming Thomas Tang Regional Appellate Competition beginning Friday, October 24th, 2008. With just a brief amount of mandatory training you will be ready to bailiff one or more rounds of the competition. Furthermore, if you are considering applying to the Moot Court Board you MUST have at least 1 POINT from bailiffing before even applying, with each additional point separating you from your competing applicants. Therefore bailiffing during this competition provides you with your first of only a select number of opportunities this year to gain those necessary and valuable points.

Additionally, participating as a bailiff allows you to see how competitions are carried out without having to actually participate in one. There are few better ways to have a stress-free exposure to the Moot Court Board than through being a bailiff.

And yes on top of all these wonderful reasons to bailiff you also get free pizza.

To sign-up, simply go to the Moot Court Board's bulletin board and put down your name, email, and day preferences. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to email Lauren Ryan @ ryanl@seattleu.edu. Thank you for considering becoming a bailiff.

- You will have the opportunity to network with alumni and other legal professionals
- Resume builder
- Admission Ambassadors are given the first opportunity to serve as phonathon callers which are paid (!) positions in the Spring (February – April)

Time Commitment

We understand that you have other commitments and need time to study. Therefore we ask you to only commit to as much time as you feel comfortably fits into your schedule, even if that's only one hour per week. All we ask is your reliability for the time you commit to.

How to Get Involved

If you are interested in sharing your SU experience with others submit a letter of interest and your schedule to Rebecca Charles, Assistant Director of Admission, in the Admission Office. If you have any questions, please call 206.398.4204 or e-mail to charlesr@seattleu.edu.

Washington State Bar Association: Young Lawyers Division-Volunteer Opportunity Mock Trials

Each year, the Washington State Bar Association Young Lawyers Division coordinates a Trial Advocacy Program. The second weekend of the program consists of mock trials at the King County Courthouse in Seattle. They are conducted entirely in character as if they were real trials, with local county judges presiding. The judges also provide constructive oral feedback on the participants' performance immediately following the trial.

We are recruiting young lawyers and law students to act as jury members in the mock trials. This is an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with a "live" courtroom setting, observe a trial from a juror's perspective, and to listen as the judges comment on what works and what doesn't during trial. This experience is of great educational value for law students and young lawyers.

The Trial Advocacy Program is seeking more than 150 volunteers to participate:

November 15: 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

King County Courthouse
516 - 3rd Avenue
Seattle, WA 98104

To volunteer as a Mock Trial Juror or for questions about the Trial Advocacy Program, please contact Jenny Reséndez, WYLD Liaison at jennyr@wsba.org 206-733-5951. We would very much appreciate RSVPs by Friday, October 31st.
