

2021-2022 SEATTLE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW CONDITIONS OF AWARD FOR SCHOOL OF LAW SCHOLARSHIPS

- Both the scholarship award and the Conditions of Award contained herein are non-negotiable.
- School of Law scholarships, in the form of tuition remission, are awarded by the Admission Committee and may not be used to cover non-tuition expenses such as student fees. They are offered in addition to other financial aid for which a recipient may qualify but may impact the levels and types of funding for which a student is eligible. Scholarship amounts are typically divided and applied equally to fall and spring semesters' tuition for the first year.
- A recipient must enroll as a student at the School of Law during the academic year for which the award is granted. There are no award deferments.
- A recipient must enroll for the number of credits considered a "full load" in their applicable program of study (full or part-time). In no case may a scholarship recipient enroll for fewer than 8 credits during fall or spring semesters.
- Some scholarships awarded to entering students are renewable, provided that each recipient maintains a cumulative law school grade point average that places them in the percentage of the class (e.g. top 50% or top 75%) indicated on the reverse side of this letter. Students are evaluated for conditional scholarship renewal at the end of each spring semester.

Students enrolling in academic year*	Number entering with conditional scholarship	Number whose conditional scholarships have since been reduced or eliminated
2018-2019	168	49
2017-2018	160	52

*As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and the shift to spring 2020 pass/fail grading, determinations of whether students holding conditional scholarships attained the percentile class rank necessary to retain their awards were deferred until the spring 2021 semester. All students holding such scholarships automatically renewed them for the 2020-21 academic year.

See other ABA-required disclosures on our website: <https://law.seattleu.edu/about-us/aba-required-disclosures>

- The School of Law reserves the right to revoke a scholarship if a recipient is found to be in violation of the Academic Standards Code or the Student Code of Conduct.
- The School of Law reserves the right to revoke a scholarship if a recipient is found to be currently in default on educational loans received at this or previous institutions of higher education.
- Conditions for receipt of scholarship aid include implicit permission by the recipient for the school to publish the recipient's name (and summary biographical data, as may be applicable) in catalogs, brochures, and related university literature. The School of Law reserves the right to withdraw its offer of scholarship aid to any person failing to agree to these terms.
- For further clarification of the policies and procedures outlined here, contact the Office of Admission at 206.398.4200 or see our website: <http://law.seattleu.edu/admission>
- Questions regarding other forms of financial aid, including federal and private loan programs, should be directed to Student Financial Services at 206.398.4250 or lawfa@seattleu.edu. See our website: <http://law.seattleu.edu/office-and-administration/student-financial-services>.