What is a joint degree?

The joint degree program allows students to complete both a JD and a Master’s degree at the same time. This allows students to earn both degrees in a shorter period than if they earned the degrees separately. There are currently seven different joint degree programs offered:

- JD/MBA (Juris Doctor/Professional Master of Business Administration)
- JD/MSF (Juris Doctor/Master of Science in Finance)
- JD/MPAC (Juris Doctor/Master of Professional Accounting)
- JD/MPA (Juris Doctor/Masters in Public Administration)
- JD/MSBL (Juris Doctor/Masters in Sport Business Leadership)
- JD/MACJ (Juris Doctor/Master of Arts in Criminal Justice)
- JD/MATL (Juris Doctor/Master of Arts in Transformational Leadership)

Application Process

Students are required to be admitted separately to both the School of Law and the graduate program. Students may be admitted to both schools before starting in the joint program; alternatively, students may seek admission to the other school during their first year of law or graduate program.

If a student is a current law student, the student MUST notify the Registrar’s Office about their intent to apply. The student MUST also notify the Registrar’s Office if the student decides to participate in the joint degree program. Failure to do so can result in missing out on critical information regarding registration and financial aid. The responsibility is on the student to comply with all registration and financial aid policies.

Students cannot be more than 50% completed with their Masters degree before starting in the JD program.

Tracking Degree Progress

It is the responsibility of the student to track the progress of both of their degrees. Approved courses can be found on both the School of Law’s Office of the Registrar’s website and in the Graduate Catalog for Main Campus. The Assistant Registrar will also send periodic tracking e-mails to students throughout the year updating them on their progress. It is important to read these emails and attachments carefully.

Albers School of Business and Economics Joint Degrees

Per the approval passed in April 2018 students in joint degree programs in Albers and the School of Law no longer must track approved courses. If a student completes their business degree within the appropriate rules and standards set up by Albers the student will receive 12 semester credits towards their JD.

Approval of non-crossover courses

If there is a course that a student would like to take for the Master’s program but it is not on the approved cross over list the student may petition the Associate Dean for Student Affairs for approval. Students must submit the course name, number, description and syllabus if available. Once a course has been approved by the Associate Dean it will be considered “approved” for all students.
Joint Degree Policies

Credit limits
Graduate classes count towards ABA and program limits on the number of credits a student may take. Quarter credits count as 2/3 of a semester credit, so 6 quarter credits = 4 semester credits.

The ABA limit on total credits is 18 in a fall or spring semester and 9 in the summer. High credit loads require overload permission. Students working more than 20 hours a week for pay may not enroll in more than 12 credits in a fall or spring semester and 7 in the summer.

Out of the classroom credit limit
The ABA rules dictate that students may take a maximum of 26 non-classroom credits towards their degree. The 12 joint degree cross-over credits count as non-classroom, students may only take up to 14 credits from the following categories: externship (site credits only), journal and competition.

Financial Aid
Students receiving financial aid or scholarships, must discuss their plans with Student Financial Services. Any scholarships awarded are only for three years and are only applicable to law school courses. Additionally, students need to consider how taking both quarter and semester courses may affect financial aid.

Grades
Students must receive a B or better in the graduate course to receive cross-over credit. The courses will not count towards the GPA at the law school.

Graduation
Students must have completed both degrees to receive either one. Students cannot sit for the Washington State Bar until their degree is posted.

Cross Registration

Cross registration allows law students who have completed their first year to take up to 4 semesters (6 quarter credits) in the Albers School of Business and Economics and/or the Institute of Public Service. The courses must be part of the pre-approved crossover list. Eligible students must have a minimum grade point average of 2.0 and must meet the prerequisite requirements for the course or receive permission from program director. For the credits to transfer, students must earn a "B" or better. Grades received will not be used in calculating the law school grade point average. Pursuant to ABA rules, under no circumstances may students receive retroactive credit for courses taken prior to entering law school.

Students must fill out and submit the completed “Cross Registration” form to the main campus Office of the Registrar. The Registration Representative will manually register students for the courses. Please note that tuition for graduate programs is different than the cost of tuition at the law school.
