GAIN AN EDGE IN A GLOBALIZED LEGAL WORLD

In today's world, lawyers are increasingly asked to work with clients from around the world on cross-border transactions and litigation. A Master of Laws (LLM) degree from Seattle University School of Law will prepare you to work in this global environment.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Benefit from our law school's strategic location in the heart of Seattle, home to many start-ups and high-tech Fortune 100 companies, including Microsoft, Amazon, Zillow, Boeing, and more.
- Become eligible to sit for licensing exams in many U.S. states.
- Learn on the job in externship placements with Seattle-area legal employers, facilitated by the law school.
- Learn from our world-class faculty, some of whom manage legal departments of Seattle-based corporations.
- Connect with our network of 11,000+ distinguished alumni around the world.

GAIN WORK EXPERIENCE FOR CREDIT

Complete an externship at one of more than 400 legal employers across Seattle, including with corporations, courts, non-profit organizations, and more.

TECH LLM

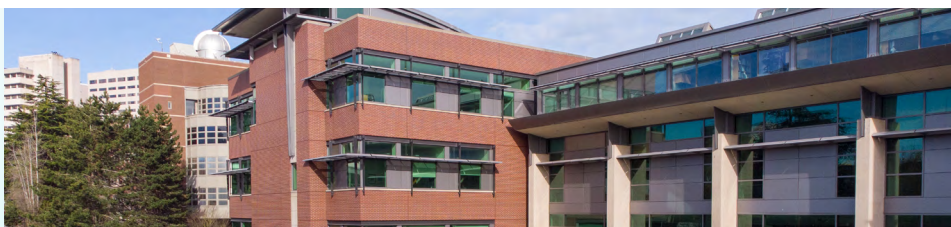

Technology, Innovation, and Entrepreneurship – In this intensive program, you will examine the interplay between technological innovation, complex legal doctrines, business/market models, and more. Additionally, you will develop specific expertise in a variety of tech-focused legal areas:

- Privacy law and managing risks
- Data and cybersecurity
- Internet law and digital commerce
- Financial technology
- Ethics (including bioethics)
- Artificial intelligence

GENERAL LLM

American Legal Studies – This program provides core training in the U.S. legal system, giving you valuable insight into U.S. legal practice.

- Courses in U.S. law, including Constitutional Law, Civil Procedure, Professional Responsibility, and more help you understand and analyze issues.
- Take elective courses that align with your specific legal interests, including in Technology, Innovation, and Entrepreneurship.
- Benefit from Seattle U Law's outstanding practical training in legal writing and bar exam skills.
